I'll always stay right by your side
I'll always stay right by your side

You came along and I thought htat I knew you Long before you were like a long lost friend
We must be part of someone's masterplan

I'll always stay right by your side
I'll always stay right by your side
The world is in our hands tonight
always always

I count the hours 'til you open up my shell
I am free since I am under your spell
If you'd ever leave ther'd be a soul to sell

I'll always stay right by your side
I'll always stay right by your side
The world is in our hands tonight
always always

I'll always stay right by your side
I'll always stay right by your side
When you're lost I could be your guide
always always
